

No Senseless Behavior

With Jeanine Fitzgerald and Erin Fournier

Sponsored By:

Free Conference!

Challenging behaviors are not just a reflection of some emotional or social disturbance in a child. They are a symptom of an unsolved problem, often related to unmet needs or a lack of skills and resources. Therefore, we must focus on what a child needs, instead of what an adult or system demands. It is time we move beyond tradition and see challenging behavior as an opportunity to teach alternative ways to get authentic needs met. This session helps us do just that.

Jeanine Fitzgerald is the author of The Dance of Interaction A Guide To Managing Children's Challenging Behaviors. Jeanine draws on more than 35 years of professional experience to empower teachers and parents to achieve more with children "at risk." With experience as a certified teacher, mental health professional, human behavior consultant and mother of three grown children, she understands the promise of every child, as well as the diversity of their needs. She resides with her husband, Todd and has 3 children, Erin, Brett and Corey.

As a Certified Human Behavior Consultant and Specialist, Erin Fournier has traveled the United States to support hundreds of families, and educators. She followed her mother, Jeanine Fitzgerald's footsteps seven years ago. Erin graduated from Westfield State University in 2005 and worked in an a public school setting for two years where she discovered her passion. Erin is the Director of Family Coaching for The Fitzgerald Institute. She resides in Shrewsbury, Massachusetts with her husband, Jason and two daughters Kendall and Kerrie.
